ONE MAN'S OPINION — THE TULE RIVER VALLEY AS IT WILL BE IN YEAR OF 1970

By Wes H. Kutzner

SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 26 — We are awaiting with eager anticipation for the work to begin on the Success dam on the Tule river. Thousands of potential fishermen, boating enthusiasts and other recreation-seekers are also mildly interested. Some are skeptical regarding the possibility of maintaining a permanent lake behind this great dam for recreational purposes. And of course we have the die-hard pessimists who maintain that at low-water it will just be a first-class mud-hole.

However, I believe that our public officials, our civic clubs, and Mr. Public in general will not stand idly by, but through concerted joint efforts will bring about legislation to retain a great body of water at all times for recreational purposes.

In other words, judging from past reactions of human nature and barring some phenomenal quirk, Lake Success, once established, will be a body of water of sufficient size to insure the recreational activities throughout the area in the future. In fact, at present date, business ventures and investments are being considered.

Even now real estate values are on an upward trend. Far sighted businessmen realize that a boom for this whole area is just around

FALL SPRAY EFFECTIVE ON MORNING GLORY

By Vincent H. Schweers
Farm Advisor

VISALIA, Sept. 26—Morning glories can be sprayed in the fall with good success, since spraying in the fall will give good control provided that sprayed plants are not disturbed by cultivation or killed by frost for at least two weeks after treatment.

For best results the morning glories should be growing vigorously. The patch should be irrigated about 10 days before treatment to get the best growth. If an irrigation cannot be made, the use of a wetting agent will help get control. Use a commercial wetting agent or one of the household detergents to help wet the leaves. A small teaspoonful of detergent will be adequate for each gallon of water.

The plants should be sprayed with 2,4-D using about one and one-half pounds of actual 2,4-D per acre.

The 2,4-D materials are not poisonous to animals or humans, however, care should be used in applying 2,4-D as the drift will cause damage to crops or shrubs. Most broad-leaved plants are damaged by 2,4-D, however, few grasses show damage.

A permit must be obtained from the Agricultural Commissioner's office before a grower can buy 2,4-D. In general, a grower will have little difficulty in getting a permit so he can spray after October 15.

SEED POTATOES FORCED TO SPROUT

DAVIS, Sept. 26—Treatment with a gibberellin solution causes seed potatoes to sprout from one to two weeks early, and breaks the dormancy for many potatoes grown on treated plants.

OUR TOWN

By Gardner (Bud) Wheeler

THERE IS FEVERISH activity among the denizens of the Barn these days. Not the cow barn, but the Barn theater. This coming Sunday evening the local drama (rhymes with comma) group is staging its annual "Hosscar" party. A quick glance reveals that "Hosscar" is quite similar to "Oscar" which is the Hollywood version of a high award for performing in the movies. We are not sure whether this success is a matter of the take at the box office or acting skill. Anyway, the Porterville version of these awards will be enacted Sunday. Doubtless "hoss" has been substituted to give the Barn a more stable note.

FEATURES OF THE EVENING will include presentations to the best actresses and actors in various categories. It seems there are supporting and lead parts which of course, should not be confused with non-supporting. This is another matter entirely. Also, a scene from the favorite play of the past season will be re-enacted. All this has been decided by a secret ballot of the Barn Theater members, and great care has been taken so there is no stuffing of the ballot box or other legitimate political tricks.

WE ARE HAPPY TO SAY, that the Barn appears to be hale and happy. The transfusion injected into its financial blood stream by last summer's benefit show was very healthful indeed. Art for arts sake is all very well, but it exists much, much better in an atmosphere of solvency.

ASTRONOMY IS SOMETHING we can take or leave alone. In fact, it is far better for us to do the latter, as we would have trouble discovering the Giant Dipper on a conducted tour. Even so, we occasionally glance carelessly at the night sky and reassure ourselves that there are still stars about. We tried this the other night and found something that looked very alien. To the North was an iridescent, red glow that covered a great deal of the sky. There were also rays of clear light playing through this field of color. Unmistakably, these were the "northern lights". Normally, the best place to view these is from a handy cake of ice somewhere around and about the Arctic Circle, yet here was this spectacle practically in our own back yard. Our town has just about everything!

WE LATER TRIED TO EXPLAIN this phenomena to the youngsters and bogged down in the world pseudo-science. With a fine recovery, we referred them to the encyclopedia, where we also refer our readers. One thing we are sure of is that one doesn't see the northern lights down here every day, or night either.

TODAY WE OFFER ADVICE to parents and simultaneously try some polished meters that would break Lord Byron's heart: Thusly:

Children who give
Repeated offense,
Could do very well
With a whack on the pants.

DOYLE COLONY

By George A. Heintz

By George A. Heintz
Personally: I'll take the seclusion of the well-posted, no hunting, no trespassing of the Tule Reservation for a quiet weekend during the hunting season — with some 2,000 hunters checking into stations over the weekend in the high country it was like Coney Island on a hot Sunday afternoon — it was open season on deer — and hunters.

Indian progress: Nine new homes under construction and three more wells being drilled along the south fork of the Tule — while talk is afoot to bring long dreamed-of electricity to these forgotten people — Mt. Whitney Lumber Co. is scheduled to start the first logs rolling to its new mill on the reservation Monday, the 30th.

Told me: Cliff Wilson, of Wilson's Sport Center, is off on his annual pack trip with a group of friends — there is a new Ceramic shop opening up near Alta Vista grocery — Cy Gilbert's Auto Repair next to Docey's diner is open for biz — Fred Perrone is on a reducing diet, is going to taper off at 315 pounds.

It's true: Morris H. Kushner, vice president of Reese of California, importers, packers and distributors of fine foods, has a new delicacy in store for epicureans — the chocolate covered South American ant — Yep, you can buy 'em at Ira Marks' Monache Kitchen.

According to: Mrs. Dalton Carroll, president of Doyle P.T.A., the first meeting of the school season was held Thursday in the school cafeteria. An excellent film titled "Tuesday's Child" was shown —

From

Daybell
Nursery
By John

Last week we received a letter addressed to "Daybell's Petunia Hatchery", which proves we aren't the only crazy writers in the country. It worries us a little though that he may really believe we do hatch those things. We admit there are times when they look "sat on" but actually they're not.

We would try to explain that seeds are "germinated" rather than hatched but it sounds too much like we've inoculated them with germs and he already suspects us of that. Anyway, we had a good "hatch" on pansies, calendulas, snaps, and stocks, which we are selling in our grade "A" large size at sixty cents a dozen. These are local grown and guaranteed fresh.

Another thing we hatch around here are landscaping ideas. If you have a new home, or your old one scares you to death, we provide free landscaping plans to ease the pain. These will provide the outline for a beautiful yard which you can plant one egg at a time or all at once.

If you've already availed yourself of our landscape service and your yard still scares you to death, we have further suggestions: You should fertilize more with commercial fertilizer or steer manure; you should take the pruning shears away from your husband; or you should move out. For garden ideas, come to "E" Street, north of Olive — seven days a week.

VISALIA, Sept. 26—Olive growers will have an opportunity to observe how one of the natural enemies of the olive scale is keeping this pest in check at two meetings to be held the afternoon of October 1.

The first is scheduled for 2:00 p.m., at the James Long olive grove, one mile south of the Stone Corral school at the corner of Road 156 and Avenue 376; the second will be at the Henry Bell orchard, 4½ miles north of Avenue 460 (Orange Cove) on the Hills Valley road, at 3:30 p.m.

Dr. Carl Huffaker, entomologist in biological control in the experiment station of the University of California, who heads the research work on olive scale, will be on hand to explain how the parasite works.

MINING and OIL

Reverberations of the recent asbestos discovery on the Tule River Indian reservation has been heard back in Baltimore and Canada according to J. P. Hall, editor of The California Mining Journal, at a recent meeting of the Western Mining Council at Santa Cruz. Several Eastern mining officials have indicated interest in this particular discovery and the possibility of a volume structure.

The big talk at the Western Mining Council convention was the price of gold and our fouled-up gold reserve. The mining industry will definitely be a big campaign issue with California politicians in their campaign for office next year. There are over 200 members of this mining council in Tulare county.

Prospectors are again swarming up the Kern River canyon and Trout Meadows area in search of radio-active ores on notice that the first uranium processing plant in California, The Verdi Uranium Mill at Mojave, Kern county, has opened for business.

A new $120,000 Dolomite Mill has swung into operation at a site six miles east of Lone Pine on the Drew Drum property; capacity of the mill is 150 tons per day of Dolomite and marble.

Mac Rizzardini and Bill Wilkerson, both of Ridgecrest, Kern county, report striking bonanza gold quartz on the latter's claim just north of Randsburg. Their strike, made at a depth of only 15 feet, is six inches of glittering gold with good high grade in both walls.

The Southwest Foundation of Los Angeles recently completed one of the best oil producers ever drilled in the Deer Creek field south of Porterville. At 899 feet, 61 barrels of crude flows daily. O. E. Owens of Porterville, announced he will shortly start drilling the first of three wells on Section 9-22-21 in the Deer Creek area.

Talks on poultry nutrition and California poultry meat inspection featured a dinner meeting of the poultry department of the Tulare County Farm Bureau held in Visalia Tuesday night.

PORTEVILLE, Sept. 26 — F. R. Farnsworth, of Porterville, will speak on "How Records Can Assist In Your Breeding Program", at Western Polled Hereford Breeders conference to be held at Medford, Oregon, October 27-28.

Farnsworth, owner of the Acehi ranch, will also appear as a panel member in discussing production methods and problems. Polled Hereford breeders will attend the conference from Texas, Mississippi, Kansas, Nebraska, Washington, Oregon, California, and other states.

In Porterville this week to check with Farnsworth on the conference program was Lyle Hoyt, western representative of the American Polled Hereford association.

Hoyt also visited with Cyrille Faure, secretary of the California Polled Hereford association.

Farm Advisor Robert Miller, who will conduct the meeting, says that gains have run around two pounds per day per head and costs have ranged from $15.00 to $20.00 per cwt.

Gain and cost figures will be available, cattle and pasture used in the tests will be shown. In addition, slaughter results of a portion of the cattle will be presented.

The Webb ranch meeting is set for 1:30 p.m. The ranch is located at the end of road 92, with turnoff on this road four and one-half miles west of Visalia on highway 198. Cooperating in this test also is Gerald Steiner, of Visalia.

The cotton tour will be under the direction of Farm Advisor Alan George.

On October 3, the Webb Brothers ranch, northwest of Visalia, will be the scenes of a demonstration to show results of feeding trials conducted with steers grazing on irrigated pasture.

DOWELL HEADS STATE LOAN COMPANY ASSN.

VISALIA, Sept. 26 — A cycle was completed, recently, with the election of Virgil C. Dowell of Visalia as president of the California Association of Industrial Loan Companies, the same organization his father reactivated 11 years ago.

The 47-year-old attorney was elected head of the California association at the recent annual meeting in Los Angeles. His election came just 10 years after his father, Chester Dowell, of Lindsay, served as president.

Dowell is vice-chairman of the board of directors of Finance and Thrift company of Porterville, one of the 30 state members of the association, representing more than $125 million in thrift.

Virgil C. Dowell

Largest member of the association is Morris Plan of California, whose president, Ralph Larson, also serves as president of the Industrial Bankers Association of America.

Other officers named at the annual meeting were: F. Kenneth Hamlin, Bakersfield, vice-president of Morris Plan; vice-president, and Everette Dority, Hanford, of Kings Loan and Thrift, secretary-treasurer.

JACUZZI PUMP STARTS PLANT CONSTRUCTION

VISALIA, Sept. 26 — Initial steps in construction of a 100,000 square foot manufacturing plant have been taken by the Jacuzzi pump company at a property site west of Visalia on the Dinuba-Plaza highway.

The company expects to specialize in deep well turbines in the new Visalia plant.

Some watermelons are still being harvested in the northern San Joaquin valley, and in southern California.

"Indian chief nostrums" are out of style. But nowadays you hear some remarkable claims about "vitamin preparations" being sold by remarkably unprofessional sources. We'd like to remind you of a fact or two pertaining to vitamins or, for that matter, any medicines. Fact one: Your physician is the one who's professionally qualified to prescribe for your health. Fact two: Your pharmacist is the one who's professionally qualified to fill prescriptions. Always rely on your "health team" in matters of health. It's the only safe thing to do.

Hello, thought I'd call and give you Vi Hustad's watermelon pickle recipe I promised. Got a pencil handy? It's rind of one large melon. Peel, remove green and pink portions from rind. Cut one inch cubes and soak overnight in salt water. Drain. Cover with water and cook until almost tender. Drain. Make syrup of 4 c. sugar, 2 c. vinegar, 4 tsp. whole cloves, 8 sticks cinnamon and few mustard seed. Heat spices (in cheesecloth bag) and syrup to boiling. Let set 15 mins. Add the drained rind and cook until clear and transparent. Pack and seal at once. No, it isn't too complicated, and actually it's been too warm to enjoy canning up 'til now. Hope they are as good as hers were.

Well, I don't know "what's new." Stephen and Dorothy Springler and Joyce, 18, and Bob, 16, moved here from Carpinteria. He's an auto mechanic; she won a lovely toaster from Loyd Funeral home, as Newcomers of the Month. Then from Carpinteria also comes Willard and Nedra Morrow and Margie, 17, and the strangest thing happened when City Hostess Anne McCormick called on them. Anne discovered they were long time friends of her husband's parents. Small world, huh?

Al and Pat Soares (not newcomers—but owners of the Luau) have returned from a week in Ensenada. They attended the bull fights in Tijuana.

Oh, I did say I'd tell you about Dot and Elvin Shoemaker's trip into Canada. Well, they bought a Volkswagen and rammed all over the place for three weeks. They went to Vancouver, B. C., on down to Victoria; spent a week of Seafair at Seattle. Watched hydroplanes qualify for races. Saw diving and swimming competitions, an aqua follies at Greenlake. In Longview they visited the world's largest sawmill, and lunched at the loggers' cafeteria, took a private boat cruise; went up 8,000 ft., on the Grouse Mt. ski lift. Saw Arcas island and viewed a sunset for which the isle is famous. It's an artist's paradise and Dot says they had tents pitched all along the shore.

Dr. (veterinarian) and Mrs. Dove should be home after a 10-day trip of sight-seeing and camping in Idaho. Hope Pohlman visited a nephew at Walnut Creek and enjoyed his new cabin at Calaveras in the big trees. She and Leo spent the greater part of the summer as usual at their cabin at Nelson.

Others just back from summer homes at Nelson are: The Hodgsons (who have brought their horses down) Rilla and Dr. Dagoberg, Angie and Charles Boatman, Ruth and Ray Olson, Ray and

So seems like Velma Martin, postmistress is the sole survivor there.

Isn't it surprising how many local people go to the lakes with motor boats for the summer? Reba and Ray Quiram spent most of the summer at Bass Lake; they also took their boat to Shaver and Tahoe lakes. Others owning boats and seen around the lakes were Chub and Phyllis Lamb and Lambsey Divey (name of their boat); and Genevieve and Ivan Robinson — (Ivan is group commander of the Tulare Co. Power Club); and Lee and Donna Gill; Frank and Wanda Nieblas; Bud and Pat Witt; June and Herb Long, Neva and Ed Douglas; Jane and Walker Thomas; Mary and Max Beckley, Tom and Mary Baker, Hazel and Mac Gill, Emil and Blanche Stoltz; Ralph and Camilla Gunderson; Steve and Lola Lalanne and Jeann and Art Wardlow. Never dreamed there were so many boat enthusiasts around, and I know I've forgotten several too.

All the hustling and bustling about town is for the coming 20-Andis fashion show. Well, I'll see you there; see if we see Christian Dior's 14 inch hem lines (longer than other French fashion houses), lean spindle dresses—straight and beltless, schemise style; fatter coats with sloping kimona shoulders and barreled hem. New hair does with small chignon worn on top of the head; needle-pointed shoes, etc. We shall see. The Springville Grange is holding a rummage sale in town this weekend at the corner of Olive and Main. Guess that's all the news. Bye now.

Advanced reports from scattered areas indicate the inland deer season for central California was just as good if not better than last year with less hunters in the field.

Approximately 7,500 hunters went through the Shaver Lake checking station from Thursday noon until Saturday morning and by Saturday afternoon late 85 bucks had been checked back through. This is about the same number of deer as last year but at least 1,000 less hunters.

For the various special deer hunts in California this year, permits not taken by those lucky in the legal lottery will go on sale starting at 8 a.m., October 1 as follows:

For the Fresno hunt, 1312 Blackstone, Fresno.

Walker River and Mono, Doc and Al's Sporting Goods, Bridgeport.

Owens Valley, Courthouse, Independence.

San Diego, 1005 W. Ash Street, San Diego.

Carson River, Markleeville.

Anyone wishing to purchase one of the permits must appear in person, present a valid hunting license and the special hunt application.

Hilton Shows Pictures At Prairie Center

PRAIRIE CENTER, Sept. 26 — A. H. Hilton, Porterville citrus grower and world famous photographer, will present a colored slide program, "Pictures Around Us" at a meeting of the Prairie Center Farm Bureau center, tonight, Thursday, at Sunnyside school.

Jamie Robertson, vice president of the Tulare County Farm Bureau, will speak at the meeting.

Presiding will be Leon Wilcox, center chairman.

cation card attached to the deer tags and pay $5. If the hunter has previously filed his application and was unsuccessful then he is not eligible to purchase on a first come first served basis.

While these special hunts are referred to as antlerless or hunter's choice, a new law makes it illegal to take a spotted fawn or spike buck.

For the free lance duck hunter, San Luis Wasteway will open with the season, October 12, Los Banos and Mendota areas, October 19 and Merced November 9.

Application for advance reservations on all areas must be received by the California Department of Fish and Game, 722 Capitol Avenue, Sacramento, at least 14 days before the shooting date requested. Special forms are provided wherever licenses are sold for filing. First come first served hunters will be accommodated after those making advance reservations have been taken care of.

A fish population and species survey has just been made of Huntington Lake with the use of gill nets. Results, numerous suckers and a few of the recently planted catchable size rainbow along with two big brown trout. Fisheries biologists say, "Inconclusive, will try about mid-October."

The idea of taking the dove off the game bird list and allowing the surplus to go to waste instead of into the hunter's bag has by no means been dropped. Actually, the legislative proposal that was introduced at the last session of the legislature did not fail to pass but was referred to an interim committee for further study.

That committee is meeting in San Diego on October 2 and will hear testimony for and against making the dove a sacred symbol. The committee is the Assembly Interim committee on Fish and Game and referenced meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Hall, 435 West Broadway, San Diego, starting at 10 a.m. Anyone desiring to be heard on the subject (Assembly Bill 2307) may write to Mrs. Vivian Wherley, Room 311, State Capitol Annex, Sacramento, not later than September 27.

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

AMERICAN INGENUITY is wonderful to behold, particularly as applied to acreage allotments and marketing quotas. Perhaps the most spectacular example of rugged individualism on the farm front is the case of Jack A. Harris, of Fresno, who took his soil bank payment from the government and went right out and planted some 4,500 acres of cotton outside the federal program, knowing that he faced a penalty of 18.5 cents per pound, payable to the United States government, for every pound of cotton he produced.

BUT MR. Harris is quite likely going to make a profit on his deal, fantastic as it may seem, even though he pays the federal government close to a million dollars in penalties.

IN THE first place, Mr. Harris put his 1,666-acre cotton allotment, in Pima county, Arizona, into the soil bank, for which he received $209,701, or about $126 per acre. He then moved over into Maricopa county and planted between 4,300 and 4,800 acres — for the sake of figures let's say the acreage will measure out at 4,500.

AVERAGE COTTON production in Maricopa county is 1,071 pounds per acre; assuming average production of good cotton, Mr. Harris might get around 35 cents per pound, which equals about $375 per acre income.

KNOCK OFF $198 per acre for government penalties and balance left is $177 per acre. Add to this the soil bank payment of $126 per acre and it appears that Mr. Harris will receive somewhere around $165 per acre.

AGAIN SPECULATING, operation and production costs might run around $275 per acre — maybe more, maybe less, but there is a margin left to play with. Given and taking a little along the line on these speculative figures, multiplying by 4,500 acres, and it becomes evident that Mr. Harris has a chance to end the season with a neat bit of change in his jeans.

BUT THEN comes the $64,000 question. After having put his allotment into the soil bank, accepted his federal payment, planted his cotton crop outside the federal program and paid his penalty, all in accordance with the law of the land, will Mr. Harris be able to claim cotton history on his 4,500 acres?

IF HE can, and it would certainly appear that he can, money will really jingle in his jeans.

WHICH BRINGS us back to where we started — American ingenuity is wonderful to behold. And because it is so wonderful, government officials in their ivory towers will never devise a program that the American farmer can't outguess.

Bulk of honeydew melons are now coming from the Turlock area.

OLD DAYS

APRIL, 1900

VISALIA — The Anti-Saloon League of Tulare county will meet in convention in the Christian church May 2. Among the speakers will be W. W. Hughes, of Porterville, whose subject will be, "The Saloon and Business."

PORTERVILLE — The Yellow King Mining company, which was organized to operate the Minnie-Ellen mine has made arrangements to begin work at once and the foreman, T. H. Welch, left for the mine last night.

UPPER TULE — N. P. Dillon has sold the lumber on his timber land to J. W. Young on behalf of other parties, who agree to put up mills and cut lumber at the rate of a million and a half feet each year.

WOODVILLE — Fred Stone and wife, of Woodville, were in Visalia recently. This was the first visit Mr. Stone had made to Visalia in three years.

The lyceum at Woodville prepared a magnificent float to be sent to Tulare and placed in the floral parade there Saturday, but rains came and the float was not sent. J. J. LaMarsna was the prime mover in preparing the float. As the float was of no use after the rain, the flowers were taken to the Woodville cemetery and used in decorating the graves there.

VISALIA — The executive committee of the San Joaquin Commercial association met in Visalia this afternoon instead of in Porterville. The change in meeting place was necessitated by the rain.

PORTERVILLE — A petition with 150 signatures asking that Porterville be incorporated as a city will be presented to the supervisors at their May session.

TIPTON — The late rainfall proved of much value to growing crops along the Tule in the vicinity of Tipton and Woodville. This season will prove more prosperous to farmers than any previous one for several years past. Last year, farmers did not have feed for their livestock and many had to dispose of their cows, but now feed is abundant and herds are rolling fat.

If you're an average person you use about 100 pounds of this edible item each year. It's now so cheap and abundant that it's often almost a drug on the market — yet until the time of the Crusades your ancestors probably never even heard of it.

the corner. Actually the boom has not started, this is only a beginning. The adage "one's hind-sight being better than his fore-sight" would be well to remember, because great opportunities are beginning to loom upon business horizons.

Of course, there will be many who will scoff and ridicule my predictions. But I maintain that there will be drastic changes and great progress all over the Tule River basin in the next 12 years.

From the air Lake Success will be a panorama to behold. Nestled like a huge mirror within the surrounding hills that will be covered with beautiful trees and verdant acres of green grass.

There will be beautiful homes and estates on the myriad of building sites abound on its shorelines in abundance of filtering plants; boat landings and fishing piers; playgrounds and amusement parks; speed boat races, sailing, water-skiing and other water sports. There will be facilities to accommodate a normal weekend crowd of 50,000 people, which will have to be increased as time moves on.

There will always be good trout fishing on the Tule river and its tributaries. Eventually, when the atomic process of producing electrical power takes over, the present power plants of the P. G. & E. and Southern California Edison will be abandoned, thus leaving the full flow of the river in the channel which will make good fishing between the two points for the full season.

Then too, the proposed upstream dams will be completed, which will greatly expand the recreational facilities by forming beautiful lakes in the higher areas. One can easily imagine the beauty of these lakes cradled in the high, pine-covered mountain peaks. And yet, they will be accessible by the ever expanding network of good roads. These dams will eliminate the danger of major floods and permit the construction of buildings and gorgeous homes along the banks of the rivers.

There will be a ski resort of great magnitude, where even the Olympic try-outs may be held. This is already under consideration and promoters are just awaiting the construction of roads that will facilitate the venture. Highway 190 will be completed from the Lone Pine to Porterville. Most cattle grazing permits will be cancelled. A new policy will have been adopted by the Forest Service. Crews will conduct control burns on a nation-wide program. Game laws will become more restrictive. The Sequoia National park and most of the surrounding area will remain a wilderness area accessible only on foot and by pack train.

In general, real estate values will climb to a new high throughout the whole basin. Fresno, Hanford, and Bakersfield will be industrial cities of metropolitan proportions. Even Porterville will be more industrial than "cow town" with a population of about 20,000. Springville will be well known throughout the West as the "Gateway to Recreation" with a population of 6,000 to 8,000.

The city worker of the metropolitan areas like Los Angeles, will commute from their estates and ranches along the river in the mountain area by regular scheduled air service. He will leave his mountain rancho at 8:00 a.m. and be at his office by 9:00 a.m., perhaps stopping enroute at his favorite spot for a cup of coffee.

A great portion of the proposed water projects will have been completed and the waters of the Feather river will have turned most of the existing arid lands of the San Joaquin valley into fertile producing acres.

You disagree? It's too bad that a lot of you who do, will not be here to see this prophecy fulfilled.
